ESTABLISHED 1833.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 2, 1886.

PRICE THREE CENTS

THE ELECTIONS.

The Associated Press Gives us Tidings From the Scenes of Greatest Contest.

MISSOURI.

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—The election here to-day is progressing quietly and an average vote is being polled. The weather is pleasant though cloudy. The greatest interest in any of the contests, is taken in the Ninth congressional district, where the fight is between Frank (rep.) and Glover (dem.) the present incumbent. A number of the most prominent democrats bolted Grover's nomination and the indications are now that the district will go republican. The labor party has no full ticket in the field, except for the state legislature.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—One peculiar feature of the present political campaign in California is the number of independent parties that have sprung into existence. There are five state tickets in the field, democrats, republican, prohibition, American party and the anti-coolie.

In San Francisco there are no less than twelve municipal tickets, some styling themselves representatives of the labor interests, others being an expression of the anti Ross rule.

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—The weather is clear and cool and the elections are proceeding quietly. A heavy vote is being polled. The American ticket is cutting considerable of a figure on the vote in this city. It was supposed at first that the American vote would only draw from the republican party, but it is now known that it is drawing from both sides. The many tickets in the field cause heavy scratching. The vote in the city and throughout the state will be very close.

CHICAGO.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—The weather in this city and throughout the state is magnificent, with a present prospect of continuing through the entire day. It is estimated that at 11 o'clock this morning fully one-half of the registered votes had been cast. There are two labor tickets in the field, the United Labor and Labor League. The former is supposed to represent largely the socialists, and, with the exception of the candidates for judges of the county courts, has independent nominees for all state and county offices. The Labor League ticket contains the names of the republican and democratic nominees. Both labor tickets are receiving a fair number of votes.

Reports from various points in Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Dakota early this morning indicate fair and cool weather.

MINNESOTA.

St. Paul, Nov. 2.—The weather throughout the state is cloudy and cool. The indications are that a large vote will be polled. Not for many years has there been so much excitement at an election and this is augmented by the attack made on a republican procession at Minneapolis last night during which about sixty persons were injured, ex-Governor Pillsbury being among the number. One or two were severely hurt and their injuries may prove fatal. The republican state central committee claim the state will give 15,000 republican majority. The democrats are making no claims officially, but say if Ames is not elected governor he will at least out down McGill's majority to very small figures.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond, Nov. 2.—From present indications the political complexion of the Virginia delegation in the fifth congress will remain unchanged.

ALABAMA.

Montgomery, Nov. 2.—There is no issue of a prohibition or kindred subjects before the people of Alabama in to-day's election and it is virtually a walk over for the democratic nominees.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia, Nov. 2.—The weather here to-day is all that could be desired. The same report comes from all parts of the state, and a very heavy vote is being brought out.

NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 2.—The election in New York to-day is for judge of the court of appeals, members of the legislature and thirty-four congressmen. The contest is between democrats and republicans on the state ticket, almost nothing having been heard of the prohibition candidates. The legislature will elect a successor to United States Senator Warner Miller and both parties are making special efforts to carry the day. The republicans have a decided advantage as the weather is clear and magnificent weather is reported from all parts of the state.

NEW YORK CITY.

In this city a large vote is being polled and the excitement around the polls seems as great as in 1884. The George men claim that in the district extending along the North river, from the battery to Canal street, they will receive almost every vote. It is conceded that in many sections of the city the George vote will be large, but in other sections this will be off-set by other votes.

New York, Nov. 2.—At the Central Labor union headquarters to-day there was great activity from early morning. The managers spoke confidently of success for the George ticket. From an early hour Henry George, Rev. Dr. McGlynn, Rev. Dr. Kramer and Mr. Powderly drove about to the polls in a carriage. Dr. McGlynn said he was delighted at the strength which Mr. George had developed and he was sanguine the labor candidate would be the next mayor. Mr. George appeared jubilant.

At Tammany hall everything looked well for the entire democratic ticket. From the Twenty-third assembly district word came that the united democrats were holding their own and the same was the case in the Twentieth district. It was said it looked very much as if George ran ahead of Roosevelt, but there was no fear of his equalling Hewitt's vote. In the east and west districts Mr. George was polling a heavier vote than expected, but these were districts principally inhabited by the laboring classes.

The reports received at Irving hall headquarters professed to predict success for the George and Noonoy tickets.

At the headquarters of the county democracy it was estimated that George would only poll about 45,000 to 50,000 and Roosevelt would be behind George.

At Roosevelt's headquarters things have been lively this morning. Elihu Root, chairman of the republican county committee, was there early and gave instructions to a special committee of twenty of the republican club, who was scattered over the city to see how things were going on. By 11 o'clock Root had heard from most of these gentlemen and he said, from all reports, Roosevelt was receiving a hearty support from the party throughout the city. Root admitted that from two assembly districts he had received dispatches stating that parts of the ticket were being sold, but in neither of these districts, he asserted would this crooked work effect Roosevelt.

Reports have also been received that George is polling a heavy vote. As this is said to be coming almost entirely from democrats, the feeling at the republican headquarters at this hour is very hopeful. The people there are very happy over the fine weather and Roosevelt, who came down early, is feeling very confident.

All reports received at the democratic headquarters up to noon in the city indicated that Hewitt, for mayor, was running ahead of his ticket. The democrats are confident of his election.

New York, Nov. 2.—4:30 p. m.—At the headquarters of the labor party Chairman McMakin asserted that George would receive 120,000 votes and be elected.

It is rumored that 9,000 republican votes are being held back, and if at 3 p. m. the George vote is ahead they will be cast for Hewitt.

At the Hoffman House betting is $25 to $2 in favor of Hewitt.

OHIO.

Cincinnati, Nov. 2.—Fine weather is reported in every state where elections are held to-day. In Ohio there is nothing to hinder a full vote. In Cincinnati the new election law is being carried out strictly, and so far perfect order has been maintained. At noon more than three-fourths of the registered vote of the city, which is nearly 55,000, had been cast.

Columbus, Nov. 2.—The weather is fine and the election is passing off quietly without an incident. A larger vote is being polled than had been expected.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 2.—The republicans claim they will gain three congressmen, giving them seven out of thirteen.

The state tickets are close and the plurality will be small either way.

Dr. Thayer went to Cheney, Mich., this morning.

AT THE POLLS.

How the Election Progresses and What the Indications Are—A Trip Through the Precincts.

The weather to-day was all that the most fastidious could desire and all the prospects were for an enormously large vote for an "off year," as it is customary to style these intermediate elections. Both parties had their "ward workers" out and carriages and vehicles were plentiful enough to convey every voter in the city to the polls.

Some four or five different styles of tickets were "peddled" and "pasters" and pencils were freely used by the distinguished freeman to such an extent that it bodes a long and tedious session for the election boards.

In most precincts a big vest-pocket vote was cast and surmises as to the complexion of the balloting can best be formed from the observations of a Sentinel representative, who made the rounds of the precincts after dinner:

First ward.—In the first precinct a heavy vote was being polled and considerable scratching by both parties. A White supporter claimed that White had as many votes in the box as Lowry, while a democratic worker thought that Lowry was a few ahead. In the second precinct a light vote was being polled and the tickets were running about even.

Second ward.—In the first precinct a big crowd surrounded the polls and there seemed to be more workers than voters. The democratic state and county ticket seemed far in the lead, while Lowry was being out by democrats. A prominent democrat remarked that he had never seen so many vest pocket votes in his life. He hoped they were all straight democratic tickets. In the second precinct there is some scratching and the republicans are doing some hard work, but the democrats are away in the lead, with Lowry about even with the rest.

Third ward.—In the first precinct a large vote was being polled and considerable scratching, though it was difficult to find out who was being slaughtered. In the second precinct a light vote was being polled and it was hard to tell how it was going, though their seemed to be but little scratching.

Fourth ward.—In the first precinct everything seemed to be democratic, though a very light vote was being polled. Lowry was running with his ticket. Willis Maier was there and he seemed to be getting some democratic votes. In the second precinct there was much scratching indulged in by both parties and like the second ward there seemed to be too many vest pocket votes to form any decision how things are going. A democratic worker thought there was about twice as many democratic votes in the box as republican.

Fifth ward.—In the first precinct the democrats seemed hopeful and the republicans were in the same condition, though it was thought that the democrats were in the lead. Lowry was being out very little in this precinct. In the second precinct there were quite a number at the polls and there seemed to be considerable trading. One gentleman remarked that they were trading White off for Willis Maier, and he thought White would run twenty-five to thirty behind the republican ticket on that account.

Sixth ward.—In the second precinct a fair vote was being polled and there seemed to be much scratching. Mr. Slater remarked that Judge Chapin was running ahead of the people's ticket and that he was following him. He thought White had as many votes in the box as Lowry. The democrats seemed confident and thought there would be a big democratic vote in the afternoon. In the first precinct a large vote was being polled and the democrats were voting everything straight, except a few who were scratching the legislative ticket.

Seventh ward.—In the first precinct a light vote was being polled and there seemed to be much scratching. The Knights of Labor were working hard for the republican legislative ticket, and some of them were working for White. In the second precinct a larger vote was being polled and the democrats seemed more confident.

Eighth ward.—In the first precinct there seemed to be a light vote and considerable scratching. No one knew how things were going. There were too many vest pocket votes to tell anything about it. In the second precinct everything seemed to be going democratic with a whoop and hurrah. One democrat remarked that there were three straight democratic tickets in the box for every republican. He said Lowry was not being scratched.

Ninth ward.—In the first precinct a light vote was being polled and little scratching being done. In the second precinct a larger vote was being polled and more scratching.

At 3 o'clock the Sentinel tourist completed his rounds. The tally sheets recorded a big vote—enormous, in fact. Judge Hench was being out in Wayne township, where he and P. A. Randall had hot words.

Judge Lowry was given a boom this afternoon and the tide turned in his favor with sweeping effect in several wards. Captain White's friends were confident, however, while the mugwump democrats looked anxious.

Doctor Loag was leading the ticket in some instances and every one seemed to concede the election of the democratic county ticket by varying majorities.

ELECTION TABLE.

Figures For Comparison With the Vote To-day as the Result Comes in.

THE SENTINEL presents below a table of figures giving the vote in this county and the counties of the district as recorded for Messrs Lowry and Keator two years ago. It is an excellent table for comparison with the vote to-day and will pretty accurately tell how the political atmosphere moves.

CUT HIS NECK.

Blair Mock Kills Harry Vandevender in a Political Quarrel at Huntington.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Nov. 2.—At 11 o'clock last night, Harry Vandevender, Blair Mock and a butcher, whose name is not now recalled, but who is employed at Millenbaugh's shop, were engaged in a heated political discussion at the corner of Franklin and Jefferson streets. Vandevender strongly advocated republican principles and Mock as stoutly favored the democrats. The latter had been drinking heavily and is naturally of a bad disposition. From an exciting discussion they came to blows, when Mock was seen to draw a knife and slash it across Vandevender's throat. The jugular vein was severed. The man fell to the sidewalk and in a few moments bled to death. The murderers turned and fled. In an hour City Marshal Jack Rosebaugh started east on the Wabash track and overtook Mock near Roanoke station, on his way to Fort Wayne. He was returned to Huntington and locked up. The butcher who is charged with being an accessory, is at large.

The murdered man is a son of Eng-gincer Vandevender, who formerly ran a locomotive on the Wabash between Fort Wayne and Lafayette. The dead man was a fireman on the Chicago and Atlantic railway, and also formerly ran on the Wabash, after coming here from Pennsylvania. His age was 28 years. He leaves a wife (formerly Miss Milton), and two children. Mock's age is but 20. He bears a bad reputation. His business is that of a horse jockey and driver. He lately "threw" a race and narrowly escaped being mobbed. His father, Dr. Mock, is highly respectable gentleman and recently kept Schroeder's old drug store on Calhoun street, Fort Wayne. The butcher is described as being a thick set fellow, five feet eight or nine inches high. The murder was committed directly in front of E. K. Alapangh's drug store.

Sheriff Bowman, of Huntington, brought young Mock to Fort Wayne this morning and placed him in jail here for safe keeping and to avoid mob violence at Huntington. Dr. Mock came up with his son and purchased for him a suit of clothes. The young man's mother is almost crazed with grief at the awful termination of her son's career, but there are sad and severe lamentations at the home of his victim.

W. P. Miller, of Huntington, called at the Sentinel office to say that Mock acted in self defense and only cut Vandevender after the latter followed him a block and struck him. He further says young Mock was not arrested en route to Fort Wayne, but at the livery stable of Herman Purviance, where he was employed.

THE STRIKE.

The Chicago Pork Packers Take a Firm Stand.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The prospects are that the trouble of ten days ago at the stock yards will be renewed. This morning the packers association held a meeting at which the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the members of the packers association will control their own business, that they will protect their property at any and all cost and that they will run their houses on a ten hour basis.

It is further resolved that the executive committee be continued in office with authority to employ any protection deemed necessary.

It is claimed that the strikers already out are urging men not to go out again for eight hours.

THE BOILER.

It gets in its Deadly Work at Charleston.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 2.—Two boilers at the Charleston cotton factory exploded this morning, wrecking the boiler house and killing Wm. Oakes, the colored fireman, and seriously injuring Richardson, the colored coal roller. Over 500 hands were thrown out of employment.

POOR KOKOMO.

The Gas Well Peters Out and Artesian Water Comes in Its Place.

A gentleman who came over from Kokomo states that citizens of that village are wearing mourning in their hats. They are sad and refuse to be comforted. The cause of their grief arises from the fact that their gas well has went back on them. After striking gas they were not satisfied to let well enough alone, but kept on boring, and after getting about twenty feet below the point where gas was first discovered they struck artesian water. As a result their supply of gas has become exhausted, but they have a good quality of artesian water both to sell and give away.

HE WAS KILLED.

A Prominent Citizen Murdered Near His Home.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—At day light this morning the dead body of Henry Munro was found at the intersection of Astory avenue and the Rogers road, in Rogers park, one and one-half blocks from his residence. There were a number of wounds on the dead man's head, inflicted by some blunt instrument. No clue to the murderers. Munro was one of the best known men in the township of Evanston as well as one of the oldest settlers.

TIRED OUT!

At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physiological function for those who need building up.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS
The Best Tonic
For Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, etc. It is the only iron tonic that is not injurious. It enriches the blood, invigorates the system, restores appetite, and builds up the body. It does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other iron medicines do. Dr. G. B. Buxton, a leading physician of Springfield, Ohio, says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action excellent on the system. It is a tonic, and a low condition of the system. Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it." Dr. W. N. W. says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the Tonic of the age. It builds up the system, creates appetite, gives strength and improves digestion." Genuine has above Trade Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Sold only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

TUESDAY, NOV. 2, 1888.

A NOVA SCOTIA magistrate who was taken to task for delaying a suit is reported to have used this argument in justification of his delay: "Look here, if you know anything about the first principles of law or the Revised Statutes, you must know that five clear days must elapse after the summons is served, and it's been raining now for three days, and it may not clear up for a week."

THE ex-Communist Gen. Dubisson, was encountered by Potapoux, one of his former aides-de-camp, in a small town in Italy. "How do you manage to live?" inquired Potapoux. "It is quite simple," answered Dubisson; "I've run across a beggar who is both blind and dumb. I follow him about, and as he can't see the pennies that people throw to him, I stoop and pick them up."

ALVIN ADAMS, when the express business was in its infancy, had an office and two horses in New York. One of these horses was a fine, fast animal and the other an old broken-down nag. Packages that were to be delivered immediately he sent out behind the fast horse. Of goods that didn't have to be rushed he would say: "Leave them for the old horse." In every express office to this day there is an "old-hoss" room, where undelivered and unclaimed packages are kept.

From a poem recently published in England we clip the following beautiful lines, embodying a truth of which all at some time, must have been conscious:
A few stones piled together long ago,
Half fallen again to ruins, have a charm
To hallow all the world. The sweetest sounds
Are those most near akin to silences,
Such as sea whispers rippling at the prow
When the loud engine ceases; muffled bells
Or echoes of a far-off wave of song
In mellow minsters; and the sweetest thoughts
Are those far whispers of humanity,
And love and death, which none can ever hear
Amid the mighty voices of the world.

AN umbrella was carried off from the editorial rooms of a Georgia paper, and in the next number of the paper appeared this paragraph: "The man who came into my office and deliberately stole my umbrella is worse than a thief and meaner than an assassin, lower than a blackguard and uglier than a crazy quilt. May each rain-drop that falls upon it turn into drops of blazing vitriol, and each sun ray bristle with ten thousand pointed needles dipped in acid poison to prick his putrid flesh."

THE Ohio State Board of Live Stock Commissioners has issued a bulletin providing under what condition cattle can be shipped into the State from the quarantine districts. The proclamation recites that the stock must be accompanied by the certificate of the State Veterinary Surgeon from the State from which they come, the affidavit of two persons that the stock has been exposed to no contagious disease for four months previous to shipment, and the affidavit of the owners of stock that they have shipped direct in cleansed and disinfected cars, and without unloading except for feed and water. All railroad companies doing business in Ohio, transporting cattle from the Gulf States from May 1 to November 1, are prohibited from unloading such cattle in the State unless they provide separate yards for the same, which yards are not to be used for other cattle until they have been thoroughly cleansed and disinfected.

THERE is in Baltimore a man who runs his house by rule. He has placards posted all over his house for the guidance of his unfortunate visitors. In the hall are the exalted sentiments: "Please hang your hats up;" "Please don't take away our umbrella." In the parlor are the mottoes: "Please don't soil the photograph album;" "Don't finger the oil paintings, they are genuine;" "I don't move your chair from its position;" "Close the piano and put the music in its place;" "No visitors entertained in this parlor before 2 p. m. and between the hours of 6 and 8 p. m. and after 10:30 p. m.;" "Visitors calling in the hours when no entertainment is allowed will have to wait the hour when some member of the family is permitted to enter." There is another placard warning young men not to stay after 10:30. In the dining-room this individual asks visitors to take their time in eating and replace the articles in the casket and not to put their elbows on the table and sit up in their chairs and eat with their forks. Every light in the house is to be put out at 11 o'clock.

A STRIKING similarity to black walnut, it is said, can now be manufactured from poor pine by the following method: One part of walnut peel is mixed with six parts of water, and the wood is coated with the solution. When the material is about half dry, a solution of bi-chromate of potash with water is rubbed on it, and then your walnut is ready. In this way excellent walnut can be made from poor pine, and it is safe to defy detection except upon very close examination.

A NEW VIEW OF CONSUMPTION.

And One Which Appeals to Common Sense—Many Curable Cases.

[Medical Stylus]

"Many persons die of consumption who could easily be cured," says Dr. S. C. Clark, of Watertown, N. Y., "if they would go at it right. I have a new view of the disease. Consumption is not always of lung origin."

"How so? What is it then?"

"Many cases of consumption are secondary. The disease itself prevails everywhere, but the best practitioners refuse to attribute it entirely to inheritance or the weather. If a person lives in the most favorable climate in the world and has any tendency to lung weakness, if certain conditions exist in the system, that climate, however favorable, will not prevent development of the disease. The disorder in such cases is only a secondary symptom in the lungs of some other ailment, and can never be cured until approached through its source."

"Yes, doctor; but what is the method of approach?"

"If you dip your finger in acid you burn it; do you not?"

"Yes."

"If you wash this burnt finger every second with acid, what is the result?"

"Why, constant inflammation, festering and eventual destruction of the finger."

"Precisely! Now then for my method, which commends itself to the reason and judgment of every skillful practitioner. You know certain acids are developed in the body. Well, if the system is all right, these acids are neutralized or utilized and carried out. If the system is run down by excesses, anxiety, continual exposure, or overwork, these acids accumulate in the blood. If there is any natural weakness in the lung, this acid attacks it, having a natural affinity for it, and if the acid is not neutralized or passed out of the system, it burns, ulcerates and finally destroys the lung. Is this clear?"

"Perfectly! But how do you prevent the accumulation of these acids in the system?"

"Irregularities of the liver and kidneys create this excess of acid and the supply can be cut off only by correcting the wrong action of these organs. The kidneys alone should carry out in quantity, in solution, enough of this acid daily, which, if left in the blood, would kill four men. When the stomach, the liver and the kidneys are all conspiring to increase the acid, the wonder is that weak lungs resist death as long as they do!"

"But you have not told us how you would treat such cases."

"No, but I will. The lungs are only diseased as an effect of this acid or kidney poison in the blood. After having exhausted all authorized remedies to correct this acid condition, I was compelled, in justice to my patients, to use Warner's safe cure; though a proprietary remedy, it is now recognized, I see, by leading physicians, by presidents of state boards of health and by insurance physicians, as a scientific and the only specific for those great organs in which over ninety per cent. of diseases originate or are sustained."

"Is this form of treatment successful?"

"It is wonderfully so, and for that reason I am only too willing that you should announce it to the world of consumptives."

Note by the Publishers:—We have received the above interview from H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y., with the request that we publish it for the good of suffering people. In a foot note to their letter they say:

"The experience of Dr. Clark is not strange to us. In our correspondence we have found that many thousands of people are suffering from what they think is consumption, whereas the real difficulty is with the liver and kidneys, proven by the fact that when these organs are restored to health by the use of Warner's safe cure, the consumption disappears, and so does uremic or kidney poisoning, which causes so many symptoms of diseases that the human system is subject to. The same may be said of rheumatism, caused by an acid condition of the system. We insist upon what we always have claimed, if you remove the cause, the system will soon perfect the work already begun. Mrs. Rev. Dr. Theodore Wolf, of Gettysburg, Pa., wife of the editor of the Lutheran Quarterly, said her friends thought her 'far gone with consumption,' but after a thorough treatment with Warner's safe cure, she says: 'I am perfectly well.' We can cite thousands of such cases, but one is enough. If you publish the above article, kindly send us a marked copy."

We gladly give place to the article, for if we can in any way stay the ravages of consumption, which carries away so many millions yearly, it is our bounden duty so to do.]—PUB.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Duffy's Formula.

For Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

DEAR SIR—I have had dyspepsia for 14 or 15 years and your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has cured me entirely. I have tried every other remedy, but I am thankful to you for it; have recommended it and my friends are all cured.

MRS. EVELINE TARTON.

1340 MONROE STREET, Philadelphia, Pa.

SIR—I have suffered with dyspepsia for eight or ten years and have tried every other remedy, but I am thankful to you for it; have recommended it and my friends are all cured.

MRS. EVELINE TARTON.

REDEWILLE, Wis., June 6, 1888.

DEAR SIR—It is a happy day for me when I find that your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the best remedy for dyspepsia. I have been troubled with indigestion for about four years, and after using one bottle of your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, with the other ingredients named, I feel much better.

J. E. MEANY.

229 VIRGINIA AVE., S. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

I have improved rapidly since taking your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and Duffy's Formula. I was a great sufferer from indigestion and severe pains in my chest and back, and now they have almost entirely disappeared. My family are also taking both and are deriving much benefit. I have gained 15 pounds in four weeks. It does not seem possible, but it is all owing to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. There is nothing to equal it.

THE BRAKEMEN'S BROTHERHOOD.

Their Third Annual Convention in San Antonio, Tex.

The National Brotherhood of Railway

Brakemen is the youngest of the several railway organizations. It was founded on Sept.

23, 1883. At the recent convention at San Antonio, Tex., 244 lodges were represented, being an increase of 80 per cent. since the gathering of the year previous. The membership is now nearly 15,000, and embraces men employed on nearly every large railway in the United States. The aims and purposes of the organization are set forth in the following preamble:

To unite the railroad brakemen, to promote their general welfare and advance their interests —social, moral and intellectual; to protect their families by the exercise of a systematic benevolence, very useful in a calling so hazardous as ours, this fraternity has been organized.

Persuaded that it is for the interest, good of our members and their employers, that a good understanding should at all times exist between the two, it will be the constant endeavor of this organization to establish mutual confidence, and create and maintain harmonious relations.

Grand Secretary, F. O'SHEA.

Though each member contributes by "sobriety, industry and benevolence"—the motto of the order—to the success of the brotherhood, still the real hard work and greatest responsibility rests on Edward F. O'Shea, the grand secretary and treasurer of the order; and so faithfully has he performed the trust that his portrait will be of interest to the follower of the rail everywhere. Mr. O'Shea is but 26 years of age. He graduated from the Western Business college, in his native town of Galesburg, Ills. He began work as a brakeman, and immediately sought to study out a plan for the bettering of the condition of his fellow workmen. He was a delegate to the first convention of the Brakemen's brotherhood. On Feb. 10, 1885, he was appointed to his present position, when he found the organization sadly in debt, through the dishonesty and inefficiency of his predecessors.

His success in putting the order on a solid financial basis resulted in his election to his present office for the term of three years.

During its brief existence this brotherhood has paid over $100,000 to the families of dead and disabled members.

Cassius M. Clay.

An element of the daring and the romantic played about the name of Cassius Marcellus

Clay during the war and the years immediately preceding. He was a relative of the great

Kentucky orator

and statesman, and

he was a good deal

of a man himself.

He was born in Kentucky in 1810

and graduated at Yale college in 1832. It may have been his northern education, or it may have been something else, that made an Abolitionist of him. But an Abolitionist he became, in the days when to be that meant to take one's life in his hand.

Mr. Clay made anti-slavery speeches in the very heart of Kentucky. He was over 6 feet high, with piercing black eyes, a giant of physical strength and as brave if not as bullith as he was big.

At first in making his stump speeches he went about the country unarmed. Then, after his life had been repeatedly in danger,

he got a Bowie knife. With it he let the life out of a man named Turner, who attacked him at one of his meetings.

He was a born fighter and this tendency came uppermost in many brawls, duels and fightings. He was ready to fight at a wink and was not particular as to the manner of it. In 1861 he cast his weight, and there was considerable of it, physically and intellectually, with the north. He was a Democrat, but he was an Abolitionist and a war Democrat.

He never entered the army, however, but preferred to do his fighting in a private capacities. Soon after the war he was minister to Russia, under a Republican administration. He is now a Democrat again and wishes to re-enter political life.

He has lately published some of his reminiscences in a volume of 600 pages, to be followed by another like one. Up to his 60th year he went about armed always, but in these piping times of peace he probably finds nothing worth fighting about.

Minister to Colombia.

Danby H. Maury, whose appointment failed of confirmation by the senate, has been reappointed minister to the United States of Colombia, has fought two duels.

The first was with

Col. de Rivier, of the French army,

who was at the time

visiting in this country. The French

officer was in love with a young lady in Alabama to whom Maury had been paying attention. The lady manifested a decided preference for the French colonel,

whereupon Maury challenged him. The duel was fought in the gray of an April morning on a sand-

bar in Mobile Bay.

Maury was arrested and de Rivier married

the lady, taking her with him to France a few days after the affair. This was in 1861. His second duel, some years later, was

with a Virginia

neighbor, but before either was harmed a reconciliation was brought about.

Hop plasters are balms and gums. More powerful than any other porous plaster.

The Learned and Eminent Scholar, Andrew D. White, ex president of Cornell university, Ithaca, N. THE CITY NEWS.

Health Officer Metcalfe reports forty deaths during October.

Mrs. Charles McCulloch entertained her friends at progressive euchre last night.

This is delightful weather for November 2, even if this item is characterized as a "chestnut."

Ferd C. Boltz wagered $200 with Fred Eckert that Judge Lowry would be elected to congress.

Three children of Officer Humbrecht are lying very ill—two with scarlet fever, and one with droupy.

The Indianapolis Journal says: "Mrs. W. H. Myers, of Fort Wayne, is visiting relatives in this city."

This is All Soul's day, and the Catholic church observes it with masses and prayers for the departed ones.

Willie Reinwald, aged one year, died Saturday of congestion of the brain. The funeral occurred yesterday afternoon.

Political chestnuts do not go to-day, and the average voter will discover he is not so much of a statesman this evening.

There are fifty people advertised in the McCaull opera company and the appearance of the party will be a social event.

The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich Huber, of Coombs street, died Saturday of croup. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon.

Justice Ryan has Bernard Downey booked for provoke-to-morrow afternoon, and he will try Louis Johns for malicious trespass Saturday morning.

The Logansport Pharos says: "R. W. T. DeWald and Harry Monning, of Fort Wayne, spent Sunday in the city, the guests of John DeWenter and John Walters."

Mason Long is at home to stay during the winter. He will attend the Baptist state convention at Spencer to-morrow accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Northrop, Mr. John Ferguson and others.

The distinguished actor, Mr. Lawrence Barrett, will play his annual engagement in this city at the Temple, Saturday night, appearing as "Richelieu," which is justly regarded as a very great characterization.

Ed. Ford, Charley Winslow, Frank Dickerson, Charley Rhodes and Horace Winslow, colored minstrels, have organized a serenading band and were out on Broadway last night. Ford picks a banjo like an old timer.

The directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company held a special meeting yesterday and declared a semi-annual dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. upon the capital stock of the company out of the profits, and payable in cash.

The remains of the late George Bulerman, who died in Seward City, Nebraska, Saturday morning, will arrive on the Pittsburgh train this evening, at 8 o'clock and will be taken to his father's residence in St. Joseph township. The funeral will take place from the Lutheran church, near Geoglin's grocery on the Maysville gravel road, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Associated Press has made extraordinary arrangements for reporting the results of the elections to-morrow, and promises to furnish the returns earlier and more perfectly than ever before. Both parties are making the closest figuring and the prompt service arranged for will be appreciated by democrats and republicans alike. THE SENTINEL is the only evening paper receiving Associated Press telegrams.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger returned home this morning. At Lacrosse, La port county, on last Sunday forenoon, the bishop preached and administered confirmation to forty-two persons. In the afternoon he administered the same rite to forty-one persons in North Judson, Starke county. Yesterday the bishop dedicated a new church at San Pierre, blessed a bell, and administered confirmation to thirty-eight persons. The new church is 30x50 feet with a spire seventy-five feet. It cost $1,000 and is practically out of debt.

The society correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal says that "Past Grand High Priest Benjamin F. Dawson, of Angola, who is well known, attended the annual meeting of the grand chapter, R. A. M., on the 22d inst, and while here became intoxicated, and was expelled from all the rights and privileges of royal arch Masonry. It is the first time in the Masonic history of the state that a grand body has expelled one of its members for a like offense. Members of the order well versed in Masonic law, say that the case is one which comes fully within the scope of the chapter's powers, as Mr. Dawson wore his Masonic jewel when intoxicated and was besides locked up by the capital police. A similar case was that of Editor Moore, of Ohio, who was expelled from the Ohio grand commandery."

Mr. M. L. Bulger was at Indianapolis Saturday.

The Catholic orphan asylum is already up to the third story.

M. V. Forkner, of Fort Wayne, was registered at Indianapolis yesterday.

Mayor Muhler let a bibulous offender go this morning on his promise to "reform."

Cottage prayer meeting at the rooms of the R. R. Y. M. C. A., this evening at 7:30. All are welcome.

Conrad Karte and Lizzie Meyer Henry Friend and Hattie Freiburger have been licensed to wed.

Judge Allan Zollars, of the supreme court, came home last evening to vote, but returned to the capital at noon.

The special car of Superintendent Stevens was turned out of the Wabash shops last week, after a thorough overhauling.

Mr. T. B. Hedekin and J. M. Moritz are fishing at Rome City. They remained here long enough to put in straight democratic ballots.

Mr. R. D. Cochran and bride, of Pittsburgh, are at the residence of Mr. John Eckert, the guest of Mr. Cochran's friend, Will Eckert.

Mr. Bob DeWald and Mr. Henry Monning, jr., have returned from Logansport and the society misses are all in a flutter down there.

The offices of the city and county treasurer are closed for settlement. They will probably open Friday to receive taxes with a penalty.

Superintendent Feltz, of the county educational department, was at Lafayette township yesterday, and found the schools there in excellent shape.

Employees of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad amused themselves at the Kalamazoo depot Friday snow balling with snow from cars that came from the Pittsburgh road.

Agent Newton, of the Wabash, favors us with a copy of the Wabash Journal, published at St. Louis, and devoted to the interests of the great Wabash system. It is a neat and handy publication.

The Odd Fellows' Mutual Aid association of Indiana yesterday closed its fourteenth year, Nov. 1. The association never was more prosperous than now, and has 4,800 members in the several divisions. Its business is confined to this state.

The Wabash increased its earnings the third week in October over those of the corresponding week 1885, $22,000. The earnings as now reported have some significance, as they are reported only on the roads which it is proposed to retain in the system, provided the reorganizing scheme is perfected.

The tramp element continues to increase as the season advances. Ladies in the suburbs of the city complain of the offensive manner which the vagabonds practice. Reports from all over the state give these wanderers bad reports for honesty and the proper way to treat them is not to let them inside your doors and to watch them until they are well off your premises.

The announcement of the Maverick National bank of Boston will be found of special interest to banks. Bankers, corporations, capitalists and others, who have financial transactions of any kind in the East. The Maverick Bank enjoys a high reputation for soundness and promptness, and Mr. Asa P. Potter, its enterprising president, is regarded as one of the ablest financiers in the country. They invite correspondence, and will give full information about investment securities.

The Decatur Democrat says: "Last Saturday George Humlinghouse, who lives in the eastern edge of Wells county, started to visit his father-in-law, living six miles east of Decatur. He was accompanied by his brother-in-law, who, just before reaching Decatur, pulled a large burr from his clothes and threw it at Humlinghouse, who caught it in his mouth and it flew into his throat. He called upon Dr. Freeman, who sent him to Fort Wayne. Dr. Meyers saw the case and advised an operation. Dr. Knobe was called, who worked about two hours and finally dislodged it. The poor fellow suffered intensely and came near choking to death."

Colonel John A. McCaull, whose opera company does "Falka" at the Temple Thursday night, has almost a "corner on European comic opera compositions in this country. He has now four companies, playing "Falka," "Don Cesar," "Josephine Sold by Her Sisters," and "Black Hussar," respectively. About the 1st of this month he is to produce "Lorraine," by Dellinger, the author of "Don Cesar," and he has also the rights for "Waldemar," the libretto of which is by Morris Barrymore, the actor, and the lyrics by William Beattie Kingston, of the London Telegraph; in addition "The Ambassador," by Herr Edward Kremsner. He has the right to Gilbert & Sullivan's new work, exclusive of New York and the New England states, and will put three or four companies on the road with it within the next two months. Neither the title or plot have yet been announced but the opera will be produced simultaneously in London, New York and Philadelphia.

A BIG BLAZE.

The Street Railway Horse and Car Stables Devoured by Flames--The Loss and Insurance.

Last evening, just after 6 o'clock, flames shot from the Street Railway company's horse and car stables, near the south depot. There was some delay in sending in an alarm and a consequent delay in the arrival of the firemen, so that the fire ran along the frame structure quicker almost than it takes to tell it. The horses, street coaches and movable paraphernalia were taken out and saved, but the stable and its contents were completely destroyed, despite the efforts of the firemen, who are not responsible for the tardiness referred to, although some people censured them.

The Pittsburgh fire company responded from the shops and assisted in protecting the McKinnis house and buildings east of the blazing stable from the heat and cinders.

The frame coal sheds of Mr. James Fox, on the west side, were burned down and the livery stable of Pearce Bros. and buildings adjacent were also threatened. The coal sheds were used by Wilson & Son, or rather the Fort Wayne Coal company.

The debris smoldered and smoked all night long and had to be watched closely. This morning the department ran to the scene a second time as the timbers blazed up and threatened to do harm. They were easily quenched.

Chief Hilbrecht estimates the loss to the street railway company at $6,000, but the officers of the company put their loss at $7,000, and it is only partially covered by an insurance of $1,300 held in the Pennsylvania Fire Insurance company, represented by James E. Graham, and $1,200 in companies represented by S. C. Lumbard.

The horses, street cars and movable stuff were also insured in other companies represented by Mr. Lumbard, but no damage was inflicted on them and the street car company cannot realize enough from the insurance to cover their losses.

Mr. James Fox will lose $200 on the coal shed and Messrs Wilson & Son will lose as much on its contents, wood and coal. They carried no insurance.

Superintendent Pearce says the company will replace the burned stables at once by a fine brick structure. He says the company's loss is fully $7,000, counting the immense lot of hay, 600 bushels of oats, the feed cutters and steamers and such as go with a big stable. He says there was no fire in the barn, no one went into the loft with a light and he believes some one tossed a lighted cigar or a locomotive spark flew into the rear window.

The street car horses are temporarily harbored at Brinsley's feed yard on Pearl street, and Supt. J. W. Pearce had every car running on schedule time at 6 o'clock this morning.

Since yesterday the Wabash shops are running only nine hours a day.

The receipts of the Pennsylvania company at their freight office here during the month of October amounted to $80,634.84.

W. A. Wolley, of Lima, came here this afternoon to "shoot" the gas well with sixty quarts of nitro-glycerine. This will develop the output of the well and decide the fortunes of its promoters in this business.

No Fort Wayne merchant has yet taken out a license to sell oleomargarine and as the law directs it shall cost $50 a year for that privilege after Nov. 1, it is surmised no one deals in it, although the preparation is used in a few restaurants.

On Monday evening at 9 o'clock occurred the death of Mrs. Sarah Embury, at her late residence on Oakley street, aged forty years. The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, from the First Baptist church. Friends of the family are invited to attend without further notice.

Building permits have been granted to Sophia Miller, to erect a wood shed on lot 53, Hamilton's Second addition, to cost $10; to J. L. Gruber, to put a new roof on his wood shed, on lot 63, Brackenridge's addition, to cost $15, and to Gottlieb Gellert, to erect a two story frame house on lot 34, Stophlet's addition, to cost $800.

THE CITY NEWS.

Health Officer Metcalf reports forty deaths during October.

Mrs. Charles McConloch entertained her friends at progressive euchre last night.

This is delightful weather for November 2, even if this item is characterized as a "chastant."

Ferd C. Bolts wagered $200 with Fred Eckert that Judge Lowry would be elected to congress.

Three children of Officer Humbrecht are lying very ill—two with scarlet fever, and one with diphtheria.

The Indianapolis Journal says: "Mrs. W. H. Myers, of Fort Wayne, is visiting relatives in this city."

This is All Soul's day, and the Catholic church observes it with masses and prayers for the departed ones.

Willie Reinhold, aged one year, died Saturday of congestion of the brain. The funeral occurred yesterday afternoon.

Political chestnuts do not go in today, and the average voter will discover he is not so much of a slumless this evening.

There are fifty people advertised in the McCull Opera company and the appearance of the party will be a social event.

The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich Huber, of Coombs street, died Saturday of croup. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon.

Justice Ryan has Bernard Downey booked for provocation-murder tomorrow, and he will try Louis Johns for malicious trespass Saturday morning.

The Logansport Pharos says: "R. W. T. DeWahl and Harry Manning, of Fort Wayne, spent Sunday in the city, the guests of John DeWahl and John Walters."

Mason Long is at home to stay during the winter. He will attend the Baptist state convention at Spencer to-morrow accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. B. A. Northrop, Mr. John Ferguson and others.

The distinguished actor, Mr. Lawrence Barrett, will play his annual engagement in this city at the Temple, Saturday night, appearing as "Richard," which is justly regarded as a very great characterization.

Ed. Ford, Charley Winslow, Frank Dickerson, Charley Rhodes and Horace Winslow, colored minstrels, have organized a serenading band and were out on Broadway last night. Ford picks a banjo like an old timer.

The directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company held a special meeting yesterday and declared a semi-annual dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. upon the capital stock of the company out of the profits, and payable in cash.

The remains of the late George Bulberman, who died in Seward City, Nebraska, Saturday morning, will arrive on the Pittsburgh train this evening, at 8 o'clock and will be taken to his father's residence in St. Joseph township. The funeral will take place from the Lutheran church, near Douglas's grocery on the Mayville gravel road, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Associated Press has made extraordinary arrangements for reporting the results of the elections to-morrow, and promises to furnish the returns earlier and more perfectly than ever before. Both parties are making the closest figuring and the prompt service arranged for will be appreciated by democrats and republicans alike. The Associated Press is the only evening paper receiving Associated Press telegrams.

Rev. Bishop Dwenger returned home this morning. At LaCrosse, La port county, on last Sunday forenoon, the bishop preached and administered confirmation to forty-two persons. In the afternoon he administered the same rite to forty-one persons in North Jackson, St. Charles county. Yesterday the bishop dedicated a new church at San Pierre, blazed a bell, and administered confirmation to thirty-eight persons. The new church is 30x50 feet with a spire seventy-five feet. It cost $1,000 and is practically out of debt.

The society correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal says that "Past Grand High Priest Benjamin F. Dawson, of Angola, who is well known, attended the annual meeting of the grand chapter, R. A. M., on the 22d inst., and while here became intoxicated, and was expelled from all the rights and privileges of royal arch Masonry. It is the first time in the Masonic history of the state that a grand body has expelled one of its members for a like offense. Members of the order will venerate in Masonic law, say that the case is one which comes fully within the scope of the chapter's powers, as Mr. Dawson wore his Masonic jewel when intoxicated and was besides locked up by the capital police. A similar case was that of Elliot Moore, of Ohio, who was expelled from the Ohio grand commandery."

Mr. M. L. Bulger was at Indianapolis Saturday.

The Catholic orphan asylum is already up to the third story.

M. V. Forkner, of Fort Wayne, was registered at Indianapolis yesterday.

Mayor Muller let a bid on his promise to "reform."

Cottage prayer meeting at the rooms of the R. B. Y. M. C. A., this evening at 7:30. All are welcome.

Conrad Kurle and Lizzie Meyer Henry Friend and Hattie Freilinger have been licensed to wed.

Judge Allan Zollars, of the supreme court, came home last evening to vote, but returned to the capital at noon.

The special car of Superintendent Stevens was turned out of the Wabash shops last week, after a thorough overhauling.

Mr. T. B. Hadekin and J. M. Moritz are failing at Rome City. They remained here long enough to put in straight democratic ballots.

Mr. R. D. Cochran and bride, of Pittsburg, are at the residence of Mr. John Eckert, the guest of Mr. Cochran's friend, Will Eckert.

Mr. Bob DeWald and Mr. Henry Monning, Jr., have returned from Logansport and the society masses are all in a flutter down there.

The offices of the city and county treasurer are closed for settlement. They will probably open Friday to receive taxes with a penalty.

Superintendent Felt, of the county educational department, was at Lafayette township yesterday, and found the schools there in excellent shape.

Employees of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad assumed themselves at the Kalamazoo depot Friday snow haling with snow from cars that came from the Pittsburg road.

Agent Newton, of the Wabash, favors us with a copy of the Wabash Journal, published at St. Louis, and devoted to the interests of the great Wabash system. It is a neat and handy publication.

The Odd Fellows' Mutual Aid association of Indiana yesterday closed its fourteenth year, Nov. 1. The association never was more prosperous than now, and has 4,500 members in the several divisions. Its business is confined to this state.

The Wabash increased its earnings the third week in October over those of the corresponding week 1885, $22,000. The earnings as now reported have some significance, as they are reported only on the roads which it is proposed to retain in the system, provided the reorganizing scheme is perfected.

The tramp element continues to increase as the season advances. Ladies in the suburbs of the city complain of the offensive manner which the vagabonds practice. Reports from all over the state give these wanderers bad reports for honesty and the proper way to treat them is not to let them inside your doors and to watch them until they are well off your premises.

The announcement of the Maverick National bank of Boston will be found of special interest to banks. Bankers, corporations, capitalists and others, who have financial transactions of any kind in the East. The Maverick Bank enjoys a high reputation for soundness and promptness, and Mr. A. P. Potter, the enterprising president, is regarded as one of the ablest financiers in the country. They invite correspondence, and will give full information about investment securities.

The Decatur Democrat says: "Last Saturday George Hummelhouse, who lives in the eastern edge of Wells county, started to visit his father-in-law, living six miles east of Decatur. He was accompanied by his brother-in-law, who, just before reaching Decatur, pulled a large burr from his clothes and threw it at Hummelhouse, who caught it in his mouth and it flew into his throat. He called upon Dr. Freeman, who sent him to Fort Wayne. Dr. Freeman saw the case and advised an operation. Dr. Knobel was called, who worked about two hours and finally dislodged it. The poor fellow suffered intensely and came near choking to death."

Colonel John A. McNeill, whose opera company does "Falka" at the Temple Thursday night, has almost a "corner on European comic opera" in this country. He has now four companies, playing "Falka," "Don Cesar," "Josephine Sold by Her Sisters," and "Black Diamond," respectively. About the 1st of this month he is to produce "Lorraine," by Dollenget, the author of "Don Cesar," and he has also the rights for "Waldemar," the libretto of which is by Morris Barrymore, the actor, and the lyrics by William Beattie Kingston, of the London Telegraph; in addition "The Embassador," by Rev. Edward Kromer. He has the right to Gilbert & Sullivan's new work, exclusive of New York and the New England states, and will put three or four companies on the road with it within the next two months. Neither the title or plot have yet been announced, but the opera will be produced simultaneously in London, New York and Philadelphia.
